

Acknowledgements

The author would like to thank the following individuals who have been of tremendous assistance in the preparation of the this report. Firstly I would like to thank all those individuals in Appendix 2 for the time that they have spent in providing their “crystal ball” projections of the new and emerging technologies. This was a task that required these people to stop what they were doing and “shift gears” and think about the future. Many of these individuals stated that they felt that their comments would not be of much assistance but their insights into the future were often surprising and provided for much of the direction of this report.

There are a few individuals who should be mentioned specifically for their review of the chapters and there critical review of the content. In the Networking section Jim Russell, Malcom Garrick and Jim Henry provided additional content in this section for which I am grateful. Rob Helstroom greatly assisted the preparation of the first two chapters in Part 4 – Electricity Generation with Gary McLennan providing additional content for the Fuel Cell chapter.

This research was assisted by Hans Setiawan who worked diligently making many of the contacts for this report. The number of interviews for this report could not have been achieved without his assistance. Terry Gaston from the Western Australian Department of Training provided access to many important articles and technology summaries for which I am grateful.

Finally, I would like to thank Bill Roberts and Tony Palladino for their comment and support in what has seemed like a never ending project.

Andrew Lindhjem
Perth, Western Australia